

WODL ADJUDICATION GUIDELINES
(Revised July 2018)

PRELIMINARY ADJUDICATIONS

Selection of Festival Plays

Selection of the FIVE FINALISTS and the (one alternate) will be based on the merit of the production on the night of adjudication. Consideration may be given to the amount of the time in performance. (E.g. When the adjudicator sees a preview as the regular performance could not be attended.)

The selected FIVE FINALISTS will be announced by the Preliminary Adjudicator at the February General Meeting. (The name of the alternate group is not announced but is presented in the report to the Board).

PRELIMINARY ADUDICATOR RESPONSIBILITIES

- a. Attendance at the February Board meeting and the General Meeting with a report which includes
 - Overview of the quality of elements of production
 - Assessment of the organizations of the pre-festival
 - strengths and weaknesses of WODL
- b. Selection of the Five Finalists (plus one alternate) and the order in which they are perform at the Festival. The order is based according to the judgement of the Preliminary Adjudicator.
- c. Announcement of Pre-festival award winners and nominees.
- d. The Preliminary Adjudicator attends the Festival Ball to announce the Pre-Festival winners.
- e. The adjudicator will provide a public adjudication roughly 10 minutes following each performance, which contains a brief overview of the production and how it fits into the Theatrical context. It is understood that the adjudication covers the production as presented not personal opinion on the script itself.
- f. The Detailed adjudication is an informal, in-depth, usually running about an hour, openminded discussion of the production between the group and the adjudicator - an educational dialogue. This is the spirit and intent of adjudication and it is expected that companies and adjudicator participate with this in mind.
- g. Prior to the performance of any play in WODL Festival the Preliminary Adjudicator will not be directly involved with any play in WODL Festival. The Preliminary Adjudicator may play polish the WODL Festival Entry into Theatre Ontario Festival
- h. Return the scripts of the Five WODL Festival Finalists to the Adjudicator Chairperson, which will be forwarded on to the Festival Adjudicator. All other scripts may be retained by the Preliminary Adjudicator.
- i. Will not discuss the plays with the Final Adjudicator in advance of Festival.
- j. Shall inform Adjudications Chair immediately he/she becomes aware of any copyright infringement.

More Than One Production of the Same Play

If there is more than one production of the same play for the pre-festival adjudications, the adjudicator may choose one or all of them. Selection of the Festival Plays is based strictly on merit.

Host Groups Responsibilities

- a. The companies will participate in the adjudications in a mannerly way.
- b. The Groups in an adjudication process are not there to defend their productions but to learn and improve. They should not be intimidated but feel free to query and discuss adjudicator's observations. If there is no interaction, the process falters and fails. Adjudicators are professional people with years of training and experience. Each has his/her own way of assessing a production
- c. It is recommended Groups tape; video or electronic record both the Public and Detailed adjudications so they may revisit the adjudication in a more relaxed and earlier hour, particularly if young people are involved. No recording of the adjudication may be posted to any media where it is accessible to other than the cast and crew of the production without the express consent of the pre-festival adjudicator and the WODL representative at the adjudication.
- d. It is important to understand preliminary adjudications run into time constraints. Not all large cast and crew stay for the detailed adjudications.
- e. Inform the audience that a public adjudication will occur; if such adjudication is desired by the group. The WODL representative will introduce the adjudicator for the Public Adjudication to the audience.
- f. Assign a member of your Group to greet the adjudicator and WODL representative upon their arrival on the day of your adjudication... (enter name on Data Sheet sent to you with the date of your adjudication)
- g. Forward list of changes to the script and either permission from the holder of the rights to the script that permission for these changes has been given or group may submit evidence that it has tried seriously to obtain permission. (see full copyright text on WODL website)

It is understood that the adjudications cover the productions as presented not personal opinion on the scripts themselves.
- d. The Detailed Adjudication is an informal, in-depth, open-minded discussion of the production between the Group and the Adjudicator - an educational dialogue. This is the spirit and intent of adjudications, and is expected that companies and adjudicator participate with this in mind.

ADDITIONAL AWARD INFORMATION

- 1) Where in a Production, two roles are dependent upon each other, and the Adjudicator is unable to choose between the two performers, the Award may be given to both.
- 2) Where in a Production a Performer is eligible in more than one award category, and is deemed the Best in those categories, then that Performer should receive all of the Awards to which he/she is entitled. For example, a Performer could be a Best Newcomer, a Juvenile, and Best Performance in a supporting role and receive all Three (3) Awards.
- 3) The Sponsors as listed on the attached Guidelines may change from year to year, but the awards do not, however you will be guided by the Festival Program as to the Sponsors name.

WODL POLICY ON COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENT

It is Illegal to change any text within a script without permission from the author or author's agent. This includes the dropping of any text because of language issues or religions (blasphemy) issues. It also does not allow for changing the gender-of the character. A female may play a male part, but must deliver a performance as a male and vice-versa.

In order to make changes, contract has to be made with the author or agent preferably in writing asking for permission. If that permission is granted, then a copy should be filed or forwarded to the adjudicator if the production is entered into Festival. If permission is not granted, then the text is not to be altered.

Any member group of the WODL receiving adjudication must provide proof that permission has been received for any changes made to the script they are using, or proof that this permission has been sought. The group may submit evidence that it has tried seriously to obtain permission. See the full text on the WODL website.
